--DCI's worldwide briefing to the Senate Armed Services Committee went well in spite of incredible last minute thrashing around.

*** - [redacted] <sup>Senator</sup> ~~Congressman~~ Pete Wilson of the Senate Armed Services Committee is interested in becoming a member of the SSCI. He is interested in Soviet naval developments and is considered a good guy. OLL would like to have him over for breakfast and have DDI brief him on their recent study on Soviet naval developments. Would you be interested in hosting such a session?

--Stilwell requested identification of funds for Congressman Wilson's $40 million for Afghanistan by 30 January. He realizes that most should come from DoD non-NFIP but thinks that the NFIP should pick up something, probably around $5 million. I asked the IC Staff to work up an answer.

--General Williams has asked for your advice regarding the appropriate level of S&T intelligence support the Community should provide to NATO to respond to a complaint from the Chief of Staff of SHAPE regarding the lack of key S&T data for NATO customers. Gates, as Chairman of the NIC, has action.

--Eloise forwarded the CIPC study on narcotics for the DCI to release for Tuesday's NFIC. She also forwarded a letter for you to sign to the SSCI forwarding this study before the NFIC review. I thought you would prefer to wait, particularly since [ ] raises a couple of valid concerns (See Tab B). I should have this package for you to look at Friday night or Saturday morning so you can decide what you want to do.

--See Tab C, if you can bear it, for the draft NSDD on national space strategy that we need to comment on by 1 February. The IG will meet on this on 3 February.

*** --At Monday's deputies meeting I think you had better lean on everyone to fill the auditorium for Congressman Conyers on Thursday, 2 February. I'm afraid this has been handled just as poorly, if not more so, than the last couple of years.

*well

Stilwell may have fallen through the cracks and Defense's nose apparently will be out of joint if someone doesn't talk to him before the final decisions are made. Could you check with the Director and see if he has done this and ensure that either he or you do so.

--Anne Armstrong wrote you and the DCI thanking you for your recent presentations before PFIAB.

--See Tab D for the tentative McFarlane agenda. I will fill you in if I get any feedback.

--Understand House Armed Services Committee worldwide briefing went well despite having a very dull, unenthusiastic audience.

--Understand that [ ] has agreed to take on the NIO job and Evan and Gates are working out the timing.

--You might want to be aware that Beal's working group for the crisis management facility is progressing rapidly toward establishing a video conferencing capability. This could require about $22 million or so from the Agency. Beal has a Colonel Lane in Defense exploring how to handle the budget requirements with the Congress. Options are for each agency to handle individually and apprise their individual committees or to lump it all together in project [redacted]. Do you think this is something you would like to know more about at this stage or do you want to let it bubble along a little bit more?

Heads of various law enforcement agencies like FBI, Customs, ATF, IRS, INS, etc., will be there. Mullen would like you to participate and make some remarks on where we are going analytically.
